7 Things Your Team Needs to Hear You Say

Engaged and motivated teams are essential to success. In this interactive presentation, participants will gain specific phrases, tools, and inspiration to cultivate an innovative, responsible, results-oriented team. It doesn't require buckets of charisma - they just need to hear these seven things.

Everyone's a Volunteer: BE A LEADER OTHERS WANT TO FOLLOW

A recent survey suggests that tomorrow's managers will have to be visionary Human Age leaders who combine a focus on human relationships and business results. In this interactive program participants will acquire skills to increase their influence, create enduring high-performance teams, and be a leader others want to follow.

The Great Willpower Hoax: STOP TRYING SO HARD!

Change is hard enough without fighting yourself and wasting energy in hopeless efforts. Discover the myths about willpower and the secrets of accomplishing meaningful change. This program can be tailored to focus on individual or organizational change.

5 Harsh Truths Every Leader Needs to Know

Do you ever wish your team was more engaged or would get more done? In this fun and interactive program participants discover five essentials of influence and tools to be more effective at work, at home, or in their community.
